

Blue Badge Holder Parking Validation

Blue Badge holders are exempt from parking charges at Sumburgh Airport when using the car park to travel off the island.

When travelling, blue badge holders should present their badge to Security in the main terminal building. Security will note down the holder's name, vehicle registration number, and expiry date and will retain these details on our Blue Badge register. This register will be kept in a locked cabinet and will only be accessible to authorised personnel. This means that any future visit will not require sight of the blue badge to enable a ticket validation. Alternatively, if you have a mobile phone that can take photos, we will happily accept photographic proof of your blue badge entitlement and validate your ticket.

If your blue badge is registered with us then this facilitates you being able to take it with you to use on a vehicle on the mainland. However, if your vehicle is parked in an accessibility bay then you must ensure you have given your details to Security. Otherwise, on return, your ticket may not qualify for validation.

Please note, 'Shetland Made Shop' or Security can validate your ticket.

To exit the barriers, enter the validated ticket into the exit barrier machine with the barcode facing upwards. Once the ticket is accepted the barrier should then open. Should there be any difficulty at the barrier, please press the intercom button and someone will be able to assist you.
